From Karen's Sewing Room

Well, it's official ladies. Spring has sprung. I know it has because my husband took the plow markers off the driveway and the snowblower has been put back in the barn. Did I finish all of my "winter" projects? Of course not! I did manage to get the first row together for the row by row challenge and that was fun. My favorite quilts are from our row by row and I look forward to participating in it every year. The vision demonstrated by the participants is amazing and the end reward of having "a one of a kind creation" really is what makes it all worth while. It's not too late for gals to join in if you feel like it.

This month we will be welcoming Dennis, from Somewhere Sewing, to instruct us on sewing machine maintenance that we all should be doing regularly. Hope to see all of you then.
Karen
